Women In The News

If you as a resident, for one reason or another, call the Town of Arlington Personnel Dept., located upstairs in the police station on Central st., you will be greeted by the pleasant voice of Mrs. Helen F. McCluskey, 840 Mass. ave., pictured above.

Mrs. McCluskey has worked as a secretary in the Personnel Dept. since Oct. 15, 1951.

She has one son, John T., recently married, who is a student at the University of Madrid, Spain.

Gym Donated By Davidsons

The $200,000.00 Arlington Boys' Club Building Fund received a tremendous impetus this week when Arthur D. Saul, Jr., Campaign Chairman, announced a subscription of $23,100 from Arthur O. Davidson, Henry E. Davidson and Harold A. Davidson, who conduct their business in Arlington as the Davidson Management Co. and Atlantic Roofing & Skylight Works. The gift will be designated to establish and equip the gymnasium in the new club house covering Memorial Units 206 and 206E, as described in the forthcoming campaign brochure, and will be known as the Davidson Gymnasium.

Atlantic Roofing & Skylight Works was founded in Boston in 1919 by the late John Davidson, father of the Davidson Brothers. They moved their operation from Boston to Arlington in 1957 and today are operating in and from a completely new and modern plant at 30 Park Avenue, Arlington Heights. This business carries on operations throughout the country and specializes in the design and erection of Industrial Sheet Metal Products. The Davidson Management Co. have built and own most of the multi-story, elevator serviced apartment houses in the Town of Arlington.

Arthur O. Davidson, a former Chairman of the Arlington Finance Committee, resided here until 1953. Henry E. Davidson, who together with Harold is a graduate of Arlington High School, has always maintained his home in Arlington. Harold is now a resident of Weston, played basketball and football while at Arlington High School, and can recall vividly, the days when he was a member of the Charlestown Boys' Club, to which he traveled daily from Arlington by street car to play basketball there.

The Davidsons in advising Mr. Saul of their decision to participate in this community undertaking said, "We have watched the Arlington Boys' Club develop and expand over the years and have had the greatest admiration for the program and the citizens who have so ably given of their time and efforts. It continues to amaze us that with the existing limited facilities, the Club is able to handle a membership of over 1700 with more than 400 boys joining in each days activities. With the announcement of the Charles Hayden Foundation's gift, it became our firm conviction that the community must support this campaign. A sacrificial high level of giving is necessary to replace the present clubhouse that is long outmoded and very inadequate." In Roger W.

Babson
Reports on Trailers

Babson Park, Mass., Jan. 21. The so-called "trailers" are enjoying great growth in every state of our country. This especially applies to Florida and the South, including Texas; and to California and all the Pacific Coast.

MOBILE HOUSES DESCRIBED

These average about thirty-five feet in length and sell, fully equipped, at about $100 per foot. There are larger ones, 40-50 feet long and 8-10 feet wide, usually with two complete bedrooms, a studio couch in the living room, and ample bathroom and kitchen. They are heated and air-conditioned, and have food refrigeration and every other convenience.

They are usually located in a pleasant parking lot, at a charge of about $20 per month. Some have adjoining cabanas with porch furniture. They also may have private phones, if desired. There is no grass to cut, garbage is taken care of, and milk is delivered.

MANY OTHER ADVANTAGES

Those who visit the same trailer park each winter, or who leave their trailer there the whole year -- perhaps unoccupied three months of the year -- become very friendly and helpful to one another. They watch out for one another in case of illness and often invite their trailer friends to their permanent northern homes.

Trailer "fans" also are able to see much of the country -- having an advantage over those who buy small permanent homes or stay at motels. By the way, I should mention that the largest trailer must be hauled by tractors; but anything under 35 feet can be hauled by private auto.

RULES WHEN BUYING PROPERTY IN ANOTHER STATE

(1) Be sure to see the property before buying. Do not buy from a blueprint, "sight unseen." (2) Try not to be the earliest buyers on a new subdivision, but wait and see what kind of people your neighbors would be. (3) Buy raw land only, for cash, -- then go to a local bank to get help in building a house. (4) Otherwise, buy or rent a trailer and rent a lot for your trailer with an option to buy later on if you wish.

MOBILE FACTORIES ARE COMING

Many young people -- after they have learned a trade -- are anxious to go into business for themselves, but fear the competition which the big corporations could give them. I forecast that the mobile small factory will be a great help to such young people.

This means that a couple could buy a bakery, a candy shop, or a stocking factory, all equipped with the latest machinery and ready to operate. They could bring this factory to a central location in the city in which they live or some adjoining city.

ONE OPERATE THE FACTORY, THE OTHER SELL THE PRODUCT

One of the owners would operate the "factory" with two or three local assistants; while the other would sell the product. There would be no labor unions to struggle with. The "factory" would not be big enough to cause concern to any large corporation.

Recent Congressional action authorized formation of "small business investment companies" which could help finance just such new small concerns in many fields. For the address of the office nearest to you, see your local Chamber of Commerce or contact your regional Small Business Administration office.

NATIONAL CO-OPERATION POSSIBLE

The companies making these mobile factories might agree to sell only one of a kind to each city (depending upon the size of the city). Then all the mobile bakeries could form an association to buy their supplies cheaper than it would cost the independent units. A similar plan could be followed by the mobile candy factories, etc.

Not only could such a plan be set up to give qualified young people a chance to go into business profitably for themselves; but any mobile factory could easily be moved to another city, or sold. This would be an especially valuable feature not enjoyed by fixed factories. In fact, I forecast that these mobile factories will have a great growth during the "Wonderful Sixties" ahead of us.

Our real specialty is combining know-how with imagination for a style with a distinction all your own.

A Lonesome Old Town

No one seems lonelier than a goal tender down on the ice by himself, fearing to look around into the net because he knows the puck has gone in for a goal. Above, Brookline netminder Harry Woolf looks into stands, hoping against hope, but the elusive puck is in the net, deposited there by Arlington's Charlie Morgan in G.B.J. Tilt.

A Lonesome Old Town

Arlington goalie Bill Clarke clutches puck in his baseball glove in action versus Brookline Saturday. Arlington came from behind to win their eighth game in nine starts to increase league lead.

Morgan Scores 2 As Locals Gain

Center Charlie Morgan scored late in the second period and again midway through the final stanza to give league-leading Arlington high school a come-from-behind 2-1 victory over Brookline in a G.B.J. tilt Saturday afternoon.

The victory coupled with a 3-2 upset win by Somerville over Medford moved the locals out front by a comfortable five-point margin.

The loss dropped Brookline from a tie for fourth place into seventh place, just two points ahead of cellar-dwelling Somerville.

Brookline moved out front 1-0 in the second period with Arlington a man short. Steve Burke tallied for the losers with a back-hander from ten feet out which skipped player. by Billy Clarke.

Arlington tied the count on a lucky goal at 8:24 of the middle period. Morgan fired at Brookline goal-tender Harry Woolf. Woolf made the save, but the puck slid into the net off a Brookline player. Morgan scored Arlington's second goal at 5:20 of the last period after taking passes from Shannon and Davieau. The puck was fired from over 50 feet out and just slid along the ice into the Brookline net.

Rep. Giles Speaks To Young Republicans

Rep. Frank S. Giles of Methuen, Republican floor leader in the Massachusetts House of Representatives, will be the feature speaker at the meeting of the Arlington Young Republican Club to be held Jan. 26, at 8 P.M. at the Robbins Junior Library Hall in Arlington Center.

The Methuen legislator is now serving his fourteenth year as a member of the Massachusetts Legislature and has been his party's leader in the House for the past six years. Prior to his election to leadership by his Republican colleagues, Giles served as Republican Whip in the House. A vigorous critic of Furcolo's financial policies, Giles has also been strong in his insistence that the Republican party must present a positive program, instead of a critical one, to the Massachusetts electorate in order to win in this coming state election.

Rep. Gregory B. Khachadorian of Arlington, the president of the club, has announced that invited guests at the meeting will include members of the Arlington Republican Town Committee, Womens Republican Club of Arlington, and members of the Belmont, Lexington, and Woburn Young Republican Clubs.

Rotary To Present Don Cossack Chorus

The world famous General Plattoff Don Cossack Chorus & Dancers will appear in Arlington in September under the auspices of the Arlington Rotary Club, for the benefit of the new Boys Club building fund, it was announced today by Rotary club president Ralph R. Hudson.

This aggregation, under the direction of Nicholas Kostrukoff, has appeared in more than seven thousand concerts in sixty-five countries on six continents, but never in Russia. All members are White Russians who would certainly not be welcomed behind the Iron Curtain. Some of the older men of the chorus fought Communism during the Revolution; the younger ones either fled the country with their parents or were born in exile, the children of emigres.

Their appearance in Arlington will be the only one in the area this season. The following committee is handling arrangements: Carmen Foritano, Chairman, Robert Burke, Arthur Braverman, Robert Wilton, and Harry Behr.

Six Members Inducted Into Lions Club

Six new members were inducted into the Arlington Lions Club at a meeting held Monday at the Cabot Farms restaurant, Somerville.

Inducted by District Governor Edward Marshall were John Crisafi, Frank Carvell, Harry Jones, Frank Squizzero, Winslow Bancroft, and Gregory Khachadoorian.

Keefe, Hayes, Schofield Head Fund Groups

Attorney Francis Keefe and J. Howard Hayes, president of Hayes Pump and Machinery Company have been named as co-chairmen of the Memorial Subscription Committee and Gordon D. Schofield, D. M. D. will head the Clubs and Organizations Subscription Committee of the $200,000 Arlington Boys' Club Building Fund as announced by Arthur D. Saul, Jr., campaign chairman.

Messrs. Keefe and Hayes will lead a committee comprised of some 20 to 25 people who will present to various individuals and families in the greater Arlington community the opportunity of dedicating specific units or sections in the proposed clubhouse in honor of, or in memory of their loved ones. Pointing out that the opportunity to establish such a memorial is not limited to those of great means, the co-chairmen stressed that typical memorials range from furnishings of Reading and Study room for $600 through the new Swimming Pool at $26,400.

Dr. Schofield will chairman the committee that will contact many of the civic, social and religious clubs and organizations to invite their participation in the building fund. These groups will also be asked to subscribe memorial units in the name of their organization. "The Club is such a vital, growing entity, that I believe these memorials for our boys will have great appeal," Dr. Schofield commented. "Furthermore, I would like to emphasize that all pledges may be completed over 36 months, extending into four calendar years for tax purposes. Before deciding on their subscriptions, we urge all friends of the Club to wait until some representative of the fund has had an opportunity to explain the needs of our boys."

Attorney Keefe, whose wife has served as a director of the Club for many years, is a life long resident of Arlington. Active in many civic and professional fields he has been president of the Arlington Community Chest, president of the Cambridge Bar Association and also a member of the Board of Trustees of the Robbins Library of Arlington. He also is a past president of the Touchdown Club of Arlington.

Mr. Hayes, president of the Boys' Club in 1952 and 1953 has lived in Arlington for over 45 years. A member of the town finance committee for 22 years of which he served 12 as chairman. Mr. Hayes is a director of the Arlington Family Welfare Society and the Boston City Missionary Society and has served as a member of the Special Gifts Committee of the United Community Services.

Dr. Schofield, long interested in youth work in Arlington, has been a member of the Boys' Club Incorporators for the past three years and has made Arlington his home for 20 years. He is a member of Hiram Lodge AF & AM, the Touchdown Club and Community Club and has served actively in the annual appeals of the U.C.S.

Measurement

Conclusions reached in portions of the following column were reached as the result of study and practical demonstrations taught at the Arlington Vocational High School.

BY HENRY ANGELO
MACHINE DEPT.
"WORDS OF WISDOM"

From time immemorial measurement has played an important part in man's way of life. In fact, without measurement, it would be impossible to live in the world we know today. But where and how did the story of measurement start?

Crude measurements of length, probably date back to prehistoric times. These early units of measurement were generally based on body measurement, usually those of the existing ruler, but these lacked uniformity. For example, at one time, as late as 1800 there were as many as 280 variations of the foot. Although standards varied greatly, sometimes through conquest or trade there was stimulated some correspondence between the systems. The Romans achieved a high degree of standardization, but after the fall of their Empire there was again great disagreement.

The yard was instituted when King Henry I of England proclaimed it to be the length from his nose to the tip of the thumb of his outstretched arm. This is now accepted in the American standard as 36 inches. We have had a uniformed standard since the birth of our country, but because of our advancement in technical and commercial fields, standards have been changed and improved to keep up with the times. With the coming of the Industrial Revolution and the Machine Age, the need for more accurate and precise means of measuring have become more and more important. The ruler and yardstick were no longer suitable for measuring in the manufacturing of machines, so engineers sat down and devised tools that could measure to the thousandth of an inch, which is 2 1/2 times smaller than the thickness of a human hair. Tools such as micrometers and indicators replaced calipers for more accurate measuring.

Today with the introduction of rockets and dreams of space flight, accuracy is even more vital than ever before. The error of a thousandth, ten thousandth, and even millionth of an inch could throw a rocket miles off its course in space. Special electronic instruments have been devised which are so sensitive that they can measure the slightest flaw or imperfection, measure the amount of light in a room, or measure within millionths of an inch length, heights, etc. of mechanical parts.

$800,000 School Plans Ready

Plans for the construction of a proposed elementary school building between Pheasant Ave. and Mountain Ave., are about ready to go to the School Building Assistance Committee, according to the report given at the School Committee meeting, Tuesday. Unconfirmed reports indicate the building will cost in the vicinity of $800,000.

Members of the Pheasant Ave. school building committee, Charles Kent, explained the plans for construction of the split level building to members of the school committee.

The classroom section of the building would be constructed on two floors with nine rooms on the top floor and seven rooms on the lower level.

A corridor section housing administrative rooms and a health unit would lead from the two story section to a single story portion of the building lying on higher ground.

The second section would house an assembly hall seating some 350 persons, a play room and kindergarten.

Playground for the building is located adjacent to the assembly hall. The hall itself can be closed off from the remainder of the building.

Room is available on the classroom side of the building for an addition to the building if needed in the future.

It was noted at the school committee meeting that cost of construction would mean about $.60 on the tax rate next year and $.80 each year after next year.

Fast Moving Northeaster Drops Six Inches Of Snow

Twenty-one Town snow-plows, five contractor plows, and two graders went into action at 3:30 a.m. Tuesday to begin the job of keeping ahead and then cleaning up some 4 1/2 to 6 1/2 inches of wet snow dumped by a fast-moving northeast storm which arrived in Arlington at dusk Monday night.

Contractor equipment was released at noon, while the rest of the plows were kept busy throughout Tuesday afternoon.

According to Town Manager Edward C. Monahan two events caused by the storm impressed him.

The Manager noted that storekeepers in the community, particularly those in the Center area showed greater co-operation in cleaning off sidewalks, while at the same time, gas station owners co-operated by not pushing snow into the street or sidewalks while plowing their own areas.

Monahan stressed the fact that thousands of tax dollars could be saved during snow plowing and clearing operations with just a little co-operation from a "whole lot of people".

Picking up of snow from the main streets was scheduled to start Wednesday morning.

The Manager in discussing side-lights of the storm that snow depth is now measured by Arlington's firemen. Generally depths from the Tuesday night storm ranged from 4 1/2 inches in the center to 6 1/2 inches near the Thompson school and the highlands.

To The Editor

To the Editor:
The Arlington News

The Arlington School Citizens' Committee is planning a meeting Jan. 27, at the Junior High Industrial Arts (Corner Maple and Academy Sts.) at 8 P.M. The purpose of this meeting is to present the proposed plans for an elementary school on Pheasant Avenue. They will be submitted to the March Town Meeting.

It will be necessary at this time to organize teams to contact Town Meeting members in order to insure passage of an appropriation for this school.

It is our earnest belief that all interested persons should attend because if we are to have this school, more work will have to be done than can be undertaken by the School Committee and the Pheasant Avenue School Building Committee.

Our mailing list is limited, so please notify as many interested persons as you are able and bring them to the meeting.

NEWS VIEWS

Election Scene Quiet

A very calm campaign leading up to Town Elections or at least it appears that way at this point.

A year ago, close to a dozen candidates had taken out papers for the Town Clerk post, and competition for the school committee positions was keen.

Only rush for papers is in the Assessor contest. The day Leonard Wood announced that he would not seek re-election, three candidates John Byrne, Wallace Flynn, and John Mitchell took out papers bringing the field total to five.

To those residents who would complain when they see a snow plow seemingly plowing the same st., several times - there is a reason - Plows may of necessity be forced to go over the same street several times to get to side sts. Since the rules of plowing, in Arlington at least, state that all plows keep their blades down even when going over a street, already cleared of snow, plows seem to be plowing the same areas unnecessarily. Wouldn't those same residents who complain when plows seem to be going over the same street unnecessarily be the first to complain that the drivers were loafing if they saw trucks going by with plow blades up while traveling from one street to another?

Expansion is seen in the future for another Arlington business with the announcement that the antique shop and taxi stand at 947 Mass ave., are to be torn down in the spring. The property is owned by Bonnell and Stokes, one of the Town's leading car dealers.

Interest in the upcoming hearing relative to a bill which would cut some of the powers of school committees is getting considerable attention locally. Members of the Woman's Club, League of Women Voters and P.T.A.'s are expected to attend. Date of the hearing is Jan. 25 at 10:30 a.m. in Rm. 480 of the State House.
